AU STUDENTS PUSH FOR DAVID CASSIDY'S ROCK HALL INDUCTION WITH UPCOMING TRIBUTE CONCERT

The free, one-night-only campus concert will feature student performances of popular David Cassidy and '70s tunes.

Washington, D.C. - - A public relations capstone course at American University has announced a David Cassidy tribute concert, set to take place at The Bridge, the university's student-run cafe, on Thursday, April 16, 2026 at 7 PM. The concert is the latest effort in a semester-long campaign dedicated to securing Cassidy's induction into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame.

The concert will serve as a critical component of the student-led campaign, which will highlight David Cassidy's often overlooked contributions to music. By gathering support at the concert, the class aims to present the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame with tangible evidence of Cassidy's influence on both past and future generations of musicians and fans.

One of the performers, Ryan Fitzgerald, who is also a member of the class, commented on the importance of honoring Cassidy's legacy through live music. "I grew up watching reruns of The Partridge Family, so I feel a particularly close connection to David's music," Fitzgerald said. "Sharing these songs through live performances is the perfect way to honor David's music and the artists he worked with. It will showcase both his star power and his incredible versatility."

The concert is free and open to the public. A full lineup of student groups and musicians participating in the event will be released in the coming weeks.

About David Cassidy for the Hall:

We are a Public Relations Portfolio class at American University working to promote the nomination and induction of David Cassidy into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

Through research, strategic storytelling, and media outreach, this project highlights Cassidy's sensational music career and lasting impact on popular culture by encouraging fans to vote for him online and at the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame Museum, with the goal of securing the recognition he deserves.
